

CARRANZA TRIUMPH MAY FORCE WILSON TO RECOGNIZE HIM

Continued Successes By "First Chief" Complicate Administration's Policy.

Complicating the Administration's policy of opposition to the recognition of the first chief, there came advices from Mexico today of the continued successes of the Carranza troops.

If Carranza follows out his winning streak, it is difficult to see how the Administration can avoid recognizing him eventually.

Carranza's reply to the Pan-American peace proposal is now expected at the State Department within two days. It is expected this reply will be a most insistent demand that the United States accord recognition in view of his recent successful military operations and the gradual weakening of the opposition.

That Villa's power in Mexico is waning is borne out by reports reaching officials here today.

New Meeting Next Week.

A second session of the Pan-American peace advocates, comprising the diplomatic representatives of Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Uruguay, Guatemala, and Peru, and Secretary Lansing is scheduled to meet here next week. Carranza's reply will be ready for consideration and it is not expected in any quarter that he will agree to the peace plan initiated by this Government.

Indications in official quarters here today are that Carranza has been making great progress recently in his campaign of conquest. General Huerta reported today that the Carranza forces had taken Alameda, Soledad, Barraterra and Paradon, all of which are in the state of Coahuila. The first three places named are in the coal regions, and the latter is an important railroad junction.

They were taken by General Obregon, who has advised his chief of the victories. These victories probably will encourage Carranza in his obstinate refusal to listen to peace parley suggestions. With the power of Villa on the war, it is believed here that Carranza occupies a strategic position, not only with respect to his troops in Mexico, but also in his relations to the United States and the Pan-American nations which have been endeavoring to unscramble the Mexican situation.

It is now apparent that Carranza awaited the effect of these victories before replying to the peace program message.

Reply Expected. It was said at the State Department today that the reply of Carranza is now expected within a very short time. The conference between Secretary Lansing and the Latin-American diplomats probably will be held early next week, as Ambassador Naon expects to leave this country for a brief period on September 15. The conference naturally will be held prior to his departure.

A series of defeats in northern Mexico threatens to eliminate Villa. Carranza intends to eliminate by force of arms the few remaining Villa strongholds. If he accomplishes this he will insist more vigorously upon recognition by this Government, which has so far given every indication of an intention not to support the First Chief.

The capture of Saltillo by Carranza was reported to the State Department last night. The Villa army was said to be falling back on Torreon. The consul at Torreon reported the abandonment of several artillery trains of the retreating army. Villa may be short of ammunition, believed important, attached to the abandonment of artillery.

Army May Disintegrate.

If Villa is unable to withstand the Carranza army at Torreon he will have to fall back on Chihuahua. A defeat at that point might result in the disintegration of his army. Only one important border city, Juarez, now remains in Villa's control. Guaymas, on the west coast, is his only seaport. Chihuahua and Sonora are the two states in which his power is yet practically undiminished.

Within the last week he has lost a half dozen large cities to Carranza's forces. His military supplies are reported at low ebb. Increased multitudes in southern Mexico and renewed activity of Zapata's forces are causing Carranza trouble.

That Carranza is awaiting results of Obregon's new campaign, with the fall of Torreon believed imminent, before replying to the Pan-American peace proposal is the belief here.

ANACOSTIA CITIZENS PLAN WINTER WORK

Association Holds First Fall Meeting—Celebration Committee Appointed.

The first fall meeting of the Anacostia Citizens' Association was held last night in the office of the George S. King Company, with President Maurice Otterback in the chair. Plans were made for the celebration upon the completion of the improvement to Nichols avenue, and President Otterback named the following committee to take charge: William J. Latimer, Dr. R. A. Pyles, Charles R. Burr, W. W. Tolson, Dr. J. A. Watson, Adolphus Gude, L. W. Thompson, Capt. W. T. Anderson, Hiram P. Butler, J. R. Har, and himself.

Dr. Thomas J. Mudd, chairman of the sanitation committee, reported concerning the health of the suburb, and his statements were corroborated by Dr. James A. Watson, who said that there had been less typhoid in Anacostia during the last three years than in any other section of the District. Dr. Mudd called attention to several breeding places for mosquitoes, and the association will ask that these be filled.

A protest was sent to the Commissioners this week asking that use of the space on either side of the approach to the bridge as dumping grounds be discontinued.

Upon motion of Dr. James A. Watson the association will tender its services to the G. A. R. encampment committee. President Otterback appointed the Rev. G. Leroy White chairman of the committee.

The list of improvements which the association will ask the Commissioners to include in their budget to Congress includes the straightening and widening of Good Hope road from Eleventh street to the Naylor road; construction of a sewer from Eleventh street to S street to the large interceptor along the shore of the river; improvement of Eleventh street from M street to the bridge; grading and improving M street from Good Hope road to Nichols avenue; and on the south side from Thirteenth to Fifteenth streets; opening and improving M street from Morris road to Talbot street; improving Shannon place from U to W street, and improving U street from Shannon place to Nichols avenue.

Charles R. Burr, chairman of the school committee, reported that the assembly hall at the Ketchikan School would be ready for use about October 1, and would cost about $1,000 to complete. He stated that while this work was completed his committee would endeavor to secure some improvements for the Van Patten School.

The authorities will be asked to lay a
